

Kobiton x Applitoools: Better Together

Super-Charge Your Mobile & Visual Testing

Kobiton is an industry-leading mobile testing platform, which provides a robust mobile device cloud for executing tests on multiple devices. Applitoools is a next-generation test automation platform powered by Visual AI. Together we, increase app quality, provide more real devices, accelerate app delivery and reduce cost with the world's most intelligent web and mobile testing platforms.

Kobiton x Applitoools

The future of mobile app testing is here and finding a solution for visual testing is one of the most important aspects of the user experience. We spend countless hours staring at our phones, we expect our apps to be visually pleasing, accommodating, and user-friendly.

So, we have a solution for that. With Kobiton + Applitoools, you can call Kobiton's real devices via Appium scripts and receive their screenshots; then, use Applitoools' native, visual AI testing capabilities to power excellent user experiences.

Did you get all of that? If not, we will put it simply here: Use Applitoools native, visual AI testing tool with the power of Kobiton's real devices. Easy!

Kobiton partners with companies around the globe who share our vision of delivering perfect mobile experiences. We are proud to partner with Applitoools to access real devices via Appium scripts, call screenshots, integrate the power of visual AI, and ultimately deliver excellent app experiences.
